

Dóriant – Map Notes

1. General Notes

If the continent Dóriant had to be described in one word, it would be “diversity”. The largest continent of Nibirum is populated by a sheer countless number of different peoples, cultures and races. Because of this the continent does not have one name, but many different names – each of the languages has a different name for the continent. But there are three names that stand out in the sense that they are the most common: Dóriant is the most common name in the human languages. It derives from Dóriens, which is the ancient elvish name for the continent. The third name is not that commonly used on the continent itself, but it is often used to name the continent by people from other continents: Emyrius.

2. Notes for mapping the next level

The map covers the whole continent and does therefore not go too much into detail in specific regions. Feel free to add anything that seems fit in your opinion. However, keep the size of the continent in mind when applying for a certain area. Choose the size of the area depending on what you want to do with your map. If you want to do a very detailed map, don't go for the whole of Anorica, but choose a specific location (for example a valley) instead. Other than that: Just have fun mapping.
